ADDITIONAL DETAILS

ALL TERRAIN. ALL THE TIME.

The first of its kind, the 4400 series is now offered in the newest F series and continues to be a machine that can be used in the worst conditions and still provide reliable performance. Utilizing four equal wheels, and having full time four wheel drive, the 4400 series is found on all types of construction sites, lumber applications, military bases, mine sites and government utility operations. A high seating position offers the operator a great job site perspective and allows for safe material handling in all types of terrain.
